Best Practice CTRM Training Programs and Learning Content for Your Employees

AllegroU provides Allegro customers with on-site training, a next-generation video knowledge base, and online training courses, so you can deliver CTRM best practices to your employees at scale. The knowledge within AllegroU is built based on best practices from working with 280 tier-1 customers for over 30 years. Upskill your employees and grow your company with the training programs and learning content offered through AllegroU.

With AllegroU, Allegro Customers Get:

On-site Training

Instructor-led training with Allegro gives your employees direct access to Allegro subject matter experts. With Allegro On-site Training, your employees can attend face-to-face sessions with instructors and industry peers in a classroom setting for an interactive experience with open dialogue and Q&A. Allegro's on-site training can take place at your company's office or in one of Allegro's convenient global training facilities.

Video Knowledge Base

Allegro's online video library is the perfect learning resource for your employees. Explore hundreds of hours of video content relating to your industry and your employees' day-to-day functions. Allegro consultants and partners upload videos to the Allegro Video Knowledge Base, keeping your employees informed on CTRM best practices, new innovations, and the latest offerings from Allegro. The Allegro Video Knowledge Base also empowers your employees to capture, edit, and create their own instructional videos that are tailored specifically to your company, allowing you to retain your institutional knowledge in-house and upskill your employees at scale. Utilize the AllegroU Add-on Tool inside Allegro to get context-sensitive help from Allegro's knowledge repositories on every view within Allegro, immediate access to relevant training materials, and instant video capture capabilities.

Online Training Courses

Learn wherever you are, whenever you have time, with expert guidance from Allegro subject matter experts. Allegro Online Training Courses provides Allegro customers with industry-specific learning paths tied to videos in the Allegro Video Knowledge Base and additional learning content. Let your employees take total control of when they view learning content, so they can learn when they have time. Allegro also offers custom training programs, so you can tailor industry-specific learning to your company, provide your employees with tests, and report on their progress.
